In a strategic move, Hader SA announces the acquisition of H-Liengme SA and affiliates in La Chaux-de-Fonds which is active in high precision mechanic, mainly décolletage. This acquisition almost doubles the actual operations and also adds on new technologies. Both companies are serving fast growing markets where size and reactivity becomes a key factor.

“With this acquisition, we have a unique chance to be a major player in the microtechnique field. Having a high number of local and international customers looking for additional capacity, as well as complete technological know-how, we found this an exciting prospect” states Mr. René Benninger, CEO of Hader SA. Mr. Alexandre Liengme adds: “We have been evaluating the synergies, and have found that together we have a tremendous potential”.

Together, Hader SA and H-Liengme SA will form a company with around 100 employees. “Located only five minutes apart, it will be very easy to integrate and to allocate resources more efficiently.” added Mr. Benninger.
